Weekly Round-up

Friday 23rd Sept

Happy Friday Everyone!

We are very proud to announce that we have been informed over the summer that we have been awarded the Skills Builder Gold Award. As many of you will know we incorporate the skills builder framework into our curriculum. We believe that it adds an extra element to what we deliver and we value this tremendously as it helps develop our children here at Buckden into well-rounded individuals. If you would like to know how you can help with these skills at home visit our website.

We are pleased to announce our Year 6 House Captains, who have been voted for by all staff, as being able to represent our school both within school and to any visitors coming in to visit us.

We will no longer be using paper Reading Diaries and are switching to Digital Reading Records to record reading at home. Your child's class teacher will be sending home the information to download the free app, BoomReader, along with your child's unique login information so you can begin to log your child's reading in seconds. It is easy to use and can be downloaded on a Smart phone or you can use the web app. We are certain you'll find this new method of recording reading easy to use and more convenient than the paper diaries and we'll be doing our bit to help our planet!

the children are settling into the new, super exciting and much more formal approach to learning that takes place in year 1. We have already modelled our expectations for presentation in our writing and maths books and we have been so impressed with how the children have used their 'Aiming High' skill to show us some of their neatest handwriting and number formation. Keep up the hard work, we are super proud!

term. We have started our new Power of Reading book in English- Mama Miti and discussed how important it is to preserve and care for the varied biodiversity that is on our planet. This links into our science topic, living things and their habitat. We are starting a new lesson - Godly play - this will allow the children to explore and discuss the purpose and the meaning of life.

garden and plant them during the next rotation. No need to waste perfectly good seeds; plus, you'll save on buying new seeds every season.

Children should have a full PE kit every day in school as we sometimes need to re schedule activities that require PE kits. Could parents check all items fit for the new school year.

Homework

Linking learning from the classroom to life at home can help to improve language and communication skills. We will continue these discussions in class next week.
